REDUCING FOOD WASTE
 WHAT SCHOOLS CAN DO TODAY

An estimated 1 billion unpeeled, unopened, and unwanted food items are discarded annually in American schools. To help reduce food waste in FWCS, work towards planning your meals ahead and not being afraid to try new foods.

Plan Ahead à Before school, look at the menu and decide what foods to choose in the lunch line. Remember you must choose at least three components offered including: an entrée, which is 2 components, fruit, vegetable, and milk item—one component. This will reduce the pressure of grabbing more food than you can eat.

Try New Food à When offered food that you are unfamiliar with, use this chance to try a bite instead of throwing untouched food away. You will never know if you like something unless you give it a try.
